Raytheon laser-guided Paveway bombs are used to attack Yemen. In 2016, the Saudi/UAE-led coalition dropped a US-made GBU-12 bomb on a pick-up truck full of children and women in an agricultural area, shredding the bodies of all 15 people on board. Codes on bomb fragments at the scene showed that the bomb was made by Raytheon in June 2016.

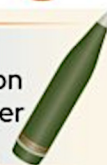

Raytheon Paveway and bunker-buster bombs are shipped from the US to Israel and used on Gaza. Raytheon also supplies military goods to Israel from the UK. Since 2008, Raytheon and subsidiaries have held 15 UK licences for military exports to Israel. During that period Israel has attacked Gaza at least six times.
