

AI firms aid Israeli genocide, apartheid

Israel uses AI and surveillance technology in its genocide and apartheid against Palestinians and the complicit tech firms have contracts here in Britain.

Palestinians are intensively monitored by Israel, using advanced technology systems that collect detailed information on every aspect of their lives. This isn't just invasive - it's deadly.

Israel uses cloud software to maintain databases storing massive amounts of sensitive information on Palestinians, collected through intrusive surveillance and torture. It uses that information to target them for arbitrary arrest and detention in Israel's prisons and to restrict their movement by preventing them from passing military checkpoints.

Israel also uses AI technology to select targets for its bombing campaigns in Gaza which destroy schools, hospitals and entire neighbourhoods.

Tech giants like Google, Amazon AWS, Microsoft, Palantir, Oracle and Cisco Systems provide Israel with IT infrastructure and software that are essential to carrying out its atrocities. Yet these corporations receive lucrative contracts from the government, local councils, universities and businesses. The NHS £330M contract with Palantir puts our own patient records at risk of misuse. The Merseyside Local Government Pension Fund has significant shareholdings in Microsoft, Amazon and Palantir.

Palestine Solidarity Campaign is calling on all institutions to sever their links with tech companies that service Israel's oppression of the Palestinians. No more public money should be handed to companies enabling and profiting from genocide and apartheid.

The illegal occupation of Palestinian Territories, including the siege of Gaza, began long before 7th October 2023. Under international law, an occupied people have the right to resist the occupation, including by the use of force. Targeted attacks on civilians (by both Palestinian and Israeli forces on 7th October) are forbidden, but nothing that happened on 7th October justifies Israel's continued genocide of the Palestinians.
